

T PROJECT 10MILLION
WORKING TO CONNECT EVERY STUDENT

Close the homework gap with free internet

We are committed to bridging the digital divide because we believe access to the internet equals opportunity. With the power of our biggest and best network ever, we continue to close that divide by providing students with free internet, free mobile hotspots, and at-cost devices needed for learning in and outside the classroom.

T-Mobile assists educators across the country by providing free and low-cost options.

Right now, students need access to home internet to ensure they don't fall behind in schoolwork. Together, we can close the homework gap and get students the devices and connectivity they need to increase their chances of educational success.
